ROSES

New Rose CAVALIER (Plant Patent No. 402)

CAVALIER is a Sport from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, originated with SAMTMANN BROTHERS, Wyndmoor, Penna.

The growing habits of this variety are similar to that of the parent, vigorous upright grower, long strong stems, glossy dark green foliage, and very prolific bloomer. Medium size, 30 to 35 petals, well formed.

CAVALIER possesses several outstanding features among them are the slow and even opening of the bud, the exceedingly good lasting qualities of the flower after being cut, and the dark, leathery foliage. These features combine to make the variety particularly adapted for shipping over long distances.

The Distinctive Color Is Extraordinarily Rich and Brilliant and is very difficult to describe accurately, because no color plates showing its true colors are available in the standard color guides. We believe the nearest description is "A beautiful shade of burnt orange". When in tight bud the color is a combination of Scarlet and Coral Red, the color is evenly spread, as it opens more of the yellow and orange tone is shown. There is no rose among the list of varieties under cultivation with which to compare CAVALIER in color. It is entirely distinctive.

CAVALIER has been thoroughly tested by Samtmann Brothers and also by Myers & Samtmann and found most satisfactory.

CAVALIER is exceptionally popular with Retailers and Wholesalers.

REVELATION—Patented—(Evans City)—Introduced 1939

REVELATION—The dark Rose Pink sport of Briarcliff, was introduced in 1939 and is daily becoming more popular with the growers who are growing it in quantity. It is a large, showy flower, long pointed bud, with long, heavy stems, splendid dark green foliage, and really a classy Rose.

Its growing habits are all that can be desired.

It is fragrant and an extra good keeper and shipper.

It is a better producer than Briarcliff or Better Times.

This Rose is not in the same color class as Briarcliff, but would be classed under medium dark pinks rather than medium light pink, as is Briarcliff.

It is very uniform in color and retains its color during dark weather.
